The Text of the Ebla Administrative Account TM.75.G.1443+4287 (ARET I 3 + ARET XII 146)

Abstract. This article reconstructs an administrative text from two large fragments published in two different volumes of the ARET series: Archivi Reali di Ebla. Testi I, text 3, and Archivi Reali di Ebla. Testi XII, text 146. It provides a continuous transliteration and a translation of the text, followed by a brief commentary on significant events described in the document.

Keywords: Ebla, administrative text, join, wedding.

The join of the Ebla administrative text TM.75.G.1443 (ARET I 3) with the fragment TM.75.G.4287 (ARET XII 146) had been proposed previously,<sup>1</sup> but an updated edition of this text has yet to be provided.<sup>2</sup> The updated edition is given below.

This nearly complete account of monthly ‘expenditures’ ( $e_3$ ) of textiles was written during the reign of the last Ebla king, Yitgar-damu ( $Iš_{11}-ar-da-mu$ ), when Yibbi'-Dikir ( $I-bi_2-zi-kir$ ) was the minister. The final annotations (rev. XII:1-13) indicate that this text pertains to the 12th month (iti MA $\times$ GANA<sub>2</sub>tenū-U[GUR<sub>2</sub>]), almost certainly from one of the final years of the Palace G archives.<sup>3</sup>

It has already been noted that some passages of TM.75.G.1443 (ARET I 3) + TM.75.G.4287 (ARET XII 146) run parallel to those of the multi-month account of metal expenditures, TM.75.G.2428 (MEE 12 35), allowing them to be dated to the same year.<sup>4</sup> I can add another text to this collection, namely TM.75.G.12406+, which remains unpublished.<sup>5</sup>

TM.75.G.1443 (ARET I 3) + TM.75.G.4287 (ARET XII 146) can be divided into parts (noted as [1], etc.) and sections (noted as (1), etc.), which are further divided into sub-sections (noted as (1a), etc.). Points of contact between TM.75.G.1443 and TM.75.G.4287 as well as sections that parallel TM.75.G.2428 (MEE 12 35) and TM.75.G.12406+ are highlighted in my edition.

<sup>[rit]</sup> MA×GANA<sub>2</sub>tenū-U[GUR<sub>2</sub>]

‘Expenditure of the 12th month’.

Several noteworthy events are detailed in this text. Parts [1] and [2], along with some variants, are similar to those recorded in texts ARET I 1-9 and 32, ARET VIII 523 and 531, and TM.75.G.2279, as mentioned previously.<sup>21</sup>

In section (2k), the phrase in gi<sub>6</sub>-sa<sub>2</sub> probably refers to an offering ceremony that occurred at dawn, often involving dancers (NE-di) (Catagnoli 1989: 154, 175, 181).<sup>22</sup>

Part [4] of the document concerns the wedding of the king’s daughter, Ti-iš-te-da-mu, which included payment of the bride price (nig<sub>2</sub>-mu-sa<sub>2</sub>). It has been assumed that she married either a court official,<sup>23</sup> or a son of the minister Yibbi'-Dikir (I-bi<sub>2</sub>-zi-kir).<sup>24</sup> Recently, Bonechi (2018 unpublished manuscript) and Cianfanelli (2024) have convincingly argued for identifying the groom as Du-bu<sub>3</sub>-hu<sup>d</sup>A<sub>3</sub>-da, son of Yibbi'-Dikir. This wedding is also referenced in the mu-DU text ARET XIV 86 (see rev. VII:10-17). Section (4g) lists allocations of textiles to women, specifically daughters from the family of minister Ib-ri<sub>2</sub>-um and I-bi<sub>2</sub>-zi-kir, who participated in Ti-iš-te-da-mu's wedding. This section concludes with a reference to one dam (woman/spouse) of Zi-mi-na-ma-lik, who could be identified as the ugula of Da-ri<sub>2</sub>-ib<sub>2</sub><sup>ki</sup>,<sup>25</sup> or, more probably, as the overseer of ir<sub>3</sub>-a-num<sub>2</sub> recorded in other texts (see Archi 2018: 217) and/or with the man mentioned in the chancery text ARET XVIII 18.

<sup>21</sup> For the most current bibliography on this group of administrative texts, see Bonechi 2020a: 144f. n. 5.

<sup>22</sup> For VE 817 see Conti 1990: 196, with previous bibliography; gi<sub>6</sub>-sa<sub>2</sub> = ba-na me-si-im, /bayna(y) mīšim/, “in the middle of the night;” u<sub>3</sub>-ru<sub>12</sub> mu-si-im, /’urru mūšim/ (“morning light”) or si-gi-lu-um/lum/ šiqrum/, (“dawn”). Archi 2002: 6 n. 16 “In the administrative documents, however, this term must have a technical meaning.”

Part [5] includes some sections (5g, 5j, 5m) that have been retained here, even though the prosopographical evidence does not clarify whether they concern participation in cultic events. In section (5k), the term mar-za-u<sub>9</sub> refers to a ritual banquet held in the 1st, 9th and 12th months (Catagnoti 2019: 23).
